Hiring Team, Faire

Your posting asks for someone who can take an ambiguous strategic question, like what expands advertising into a durable growth lever, and turn it into a recommendation the GTM and leadership teams act on. I ran that exact process at Sensata: built the FY2026 Bleeders and Leakers dashboard from scratch, ranked 1,200 pricing opportunities against a $627M target across 3 regions and 20 product lines, and surfaced $433M in margin gaps for leadership to prioritize. The lever was pricing, not advertising, but the discipline, define the metric, size the opportunity, build the model, defend the recommendation, is the same one your GTM strategy work asks for.

I also have the cross-functional range the role needs. At Applied Materials I partner directly with Sales, Engineering and Accounts to turn scattered field input into one market view, the same muscle your posting describes as partnering with Product, Sales, Systems and Marketing. At Sensata I benchmarked 10 or more competitors to build the case behind a market-share gain, then modeled site transition strategy and revenue scenarios directly with senior executives, the kind of high-visibility analytical work this role expects from day one.

What draws me to this specific seat is that advertising is still one of Faire's fastest-growing revenue lines, meaning the strategy is still being written, not maintained. I like building the first version of a model more than optimizing the fifth.

I would like to bring that strategic rigor to Faire's GTM strategy work. Proof trail at adhithyabhaskar.vercel.app/ref/faire.
