SUMMARY

Product marketer who owns a launch's full narrative arc, from positioning through release to sales enablement, not just a content calendar. Built the sales-content system behind Sensata's $2M+ sensing-product GTM, arming 50+ reps with messaging that lifted win rates 30%, after running 30+ customer interviews to pressure-test that narrative before it shipped. Automates recurring competitive and market analysis with AI agents built on Claude as Strategic Marketing III at Applied Materials, the same agent-native workflow a founding PMM is asked to scale their own output with. Shipped an AI product's entire GTM and positioning from a blank page outside work, Python and the OpenAI API, the zero-playbook mode a first marketing hire actually operates in.
