SUMMARY

Builds cross-region strategy and operations programs end to end, from an ambiguous problem to an executive-aligned launch. At Sensata I built the FY2026 Bleeders and Leakers framework in SQL and Power BI across 3 regions and 20 product lines, giving each region its own scorecard instead of one rolled-up number, and carried that same discipline into distributor and channel-partner contracting that lifted margins from 53% to 61%. At Applied Materials I run the business operations cadence behind P&L targets across multiple product groups, OKRs, annual target setting, and weekly and quarterly reviews, automating the recurring half of that analysis with AI agents built on Claude.
