Hiring Team, Planet

Your posting describes the Global Deal Desk Senior Manager as mission control between Sales, FP&A, Product and Legal on your most complex deals. I already build that control layer. PriceKeel, the company I founded, flags a discount exception inside the deal platform before a deal closes and recommends a guardrail learned from a company's own closed-won and closed-lost history, the same nonstandard-sale review your Deal Desk runs on every strategic account.

The deal-structuring side is not new to me either. At Sensata I led the Bleeders and Leakers program: deal-by-deal review of nonstandard terms against competitive gaps and customer willingness to pay, recovering $700K plus in margin in two quarters and raising distributor and channel-partner margins from 53% to 61% in under two quarters. I then standardized that discount logic into the business rules Sales followed afterward, the same repeatable deal playbook your posting asks a Senior Manager to own.

Your team wants someone tracking industry AI trends in Deal Desk management, not just citing them. I automate repetitive deal and pricing analysis with Claude AI agents in my current role at Applied Materials, and I built PriceKeel's own audit trail so Finance gets an evidence-backed record behind every exception, pricing governance that is not bolted on after the fact. I have also run the cross-functional side your posting names directly: partnering with senior executives on multimillion-dollar customer quotes and revenue models, and building the FY2026 Bleeders and Leakers Power BI dashboard that tracked 1,200 pricing opportunities and surfaced $433M in margin gaps across 3 regions, 4 product families and 20 product lines.

I would bring the same discipline to Planet's pricing and packaging rollouts and customer migrations: structure the deal, document the rule, and give Finance and Legal a record they can stand behind. Proof trail at adhi-pricing-ai.vercel.app/ref/planet.
