Hiring Team, Base44,

Base44 is doing the thing I have been building toward for two years: putting real software-creation power in the hands of people who would never have shipped a product otherwise. I have lived both sides of that audience - I ship B2B GTM for a Fortune 500 industrial BU by day, and I built and launched SwipeHire, an AI-driven product on Python + AI APIs + React, end-to-end on my own. I know exactly what hooks a non-developer trying to build their first product, because I marketed to that person and I was that person.

Direct evidence of fit:

- Founder-built AI product, shipped solo: Built SwipeHire on Python + AI + React. Wrote the positioning, landing page, onboarding, and email sequences; ran 8+ A/B tests on hero copy and CTAs via GA4 + Amplitude. 50+ early users, zero paid budget. This is the first-PMM mindset in practice.
- $2M+ first-year revenue on new product lines at Sensata: owned positioning, messaging, and GTM across NA and EU. Built a sales enablement library used by 50+ reps - one-pagers, battle cards, demo decks, case studies, email sequences, and website pages. Win rates +30%.
- 30+ structured customer interviews with OEMs and distributors; translated insights into roadmap, battle cards, and pricing actions. CSAT +22%, feature adoption +18% - the same insight-to-asset loop the role calls out.
- HubSpot + GA4 daily: Rebuilt the full MarTech stack at Plug Power on HubSpot + Salesforce + Adobe + GA4 + GTM. -25% CPA, +20% conversion. Performance-marketing instinct sharpens every PMM asset I ship.
- AI tools + no-code daily: SwipeHire runs on Python + AI APIs; daily use of AI-driven content, research, and analysis workflows plus Webflow, Notion, Airtable, Zapier. Independent execution is how I work.

MS in Marketing Analytics from Simon Business School (U. of Rochester). Open to hybrid in New York. Excited to help Base44 turn non-developers into shippers.
