Hiring Team, Marketing, Modern Life

Marketing at Series A is the compressed version of the job. One person owns campaigns, events, enablement, MarTech ops, and the reporting that goes with all of it. AI fluency is not a bonus line on the JD; it is how you ship four things at once without losing quality. I have run that loop at smaller scale and am built for the next one.

Three tracks that converge on this role.

I have rebuilt the full demand-gen stack once, from scratch. At Plug Power I evaluated, selected, and implemented the Salesforce + Adobe Analytics + Adobe Audience Manager + GA + GTM stack: closed-loop attribution from ad click to SQL, audience segmentation in AAM, paid motion across Google, Meta, and LinkedIn. A/B tests on landing pages, keywords, and creatives delivered -25% CPA and +20% conversion. The playbook transfers cleanly to HubSpot + GA + Webflow.

I have run growth on an AI-driven B2B platform at comparable stage. At Pixis I operated on an AI adtech SaaS, managing $1.4M across 8 enterprise clients with weekly optimization cycles. 3x ROAS in 30 days for a leading fashion brand. Client churn down 50%. My job was the translation layer between the ML product and customer GTM, which is the same shape as taking an AI-driven life-insurance platform to advisors.

I ship AI-augmented workflows instead of talking about them. I founded SwipeHire, a production AI product on OpenAI API + React. 50+ users, 8+ A/B tests, +25% activation. The non-obvious design move is separating draft from judge: one Claude call drafts a landing copy variant, a second scores it against the conversion signal, a human gate approves before ship. I hold four Anthropic Claude certifications including Building with the Claude API. Claude plus Zapier plus custom GPTs is my default ops stack.

Three JD specifics:

Campaigns across email, LinkedIn, paid. Plug Power and Pixis were all three channels, at enterprise B2B scale. Sensata adds the email + enablement side of GTM.

MarTech: HubSpot, Webflow, GA4. HubSpot certified. GA4 is native at Sensata, Plug Power, and SwipeHire. Webflow is adjacent to WordPress and Shopify (both used); I can ship a Webflow landing in a week.

Sales enablement. At Sensata I built battlecards, pitch decks, and case studies for 50+ reps across 3 regions; +30% win rates.

MS Marketing Analytics (Simon, University of Rochester). BE Mechanical Engineering (BITS Pilani). Committed to relocating to New York.

Would welcome 20 minutes on where the advisor funnel currently leaks and what the first three experiments should be.
