Hiring Team, The Nielsen Company

On paper this role is campaign management, but at a measurement company the campaign manager is the person who turns attribution data into business decisions. Nielsen built the industry's measurement standard. Running campaigns internally at that standard is a higher bar than most companies enforce, which is exactly the role I want. The JD phrases it as "data interpretation and ROI optimization rather than passive reporting." That is a motion I have been running for four years.

Plug Power, full-funnel rebuild with closed-loop attribution. I rebuilt the entire MarTech stack at Plug Power from scratch: Salesforce + HubSpot + Adobe Analytics + Adobe Audience Manager + GA + GTM. I designed closed-loop attribution ad click to SQL, implemented pixel + tag architecture via GTM, and trained Sales and IT to trust the numbers so the handoff actually worked. -25% CPA, +20% conversion. A/B tested creative, landing pages, and audience segments across Google + SA360 + LinkedIn + Meta + email. When the JD says "monitor performance, identify underperforming segments, adjust in real time," that is my weekly operating rhythm, not a skill I need to develop.

Pixis, enterprise campaign ownership at scale. I owned an 8-client enterprise AI SaaS campaign book with a $1.4M shared budget across Google, Meta, and programmatic. Weekly optimization cycles across creative, channel, audience, and bidding with AI-driven tools. 3x ROAS in 30 days for a leading fashion brand, cut churn 50% across the book. Built per-vertical playbooks and the case-study library that translated campaign data into executive narratives our CMO stakeholders trusted. This role's "translate campaign metrics into executive narratives with actionable insights" line is exactly that deliverable.

SwipeHire, solo full-funnel zero-to-one. Built a production AI product on OpenAI API and React, solo in six weeks. 50+ users, +25% activation via 8+ A/B tests on creative + landing + audience. Instrumented GA4 + GTM + custom events + cohort dashboards. CAC-per-activated-user and cohort LTV analysis ran daily. Full-funnel ownership from zero tells you the person knows where the leverage actually sits, because when you own everything you only work on what moves revenue.

Metrics fluency. CAC, LTV, ROAS, MER. MS Marketing Analytics at Simon (Rochester) on causal inference, pricing analytics, and experiment design. Power BI executive dashboard on $627M pipeline at Sensata. SQL daily on 50K+ devices. GA4 + GTM + pixel implementation production-grade. 4 Anthropic Claude certifications for the AI-augmented side of experimentation.

On the fit. Full-funnel digital campaign strategist with multi-touch attribution ownership, remote US, at Nielsen. This is a clean match. The JD does not ask for a generic campaign manager; it asks for someone who interprets data and makes decisions. That is the job I want and the pattern I have been running.

Would welcome 20 minutes on where the biggest attribution gap is in the current Nielsen campaign book and what the first 90-day priority looks like.
