Why I am the operator Soraban needs

Soraban sells AI tax workflow to accounting firms - technically literate, skeptical buyers. Demand gen has to be sharp, measured, and credible. That is the work I have done at Plug Power and Pixis.

The Plug Power playbook for Soraban's accounting buyer

Plug Power buyers were industrial engineering leaders - similar shape to accounting partners: technically literate, time-poor, only convert on substance. Same playbook applies.

What I rebuilt at Plug Power

- Full MarTech stack from scratch: HubSpot + Salesforce + Adobe + GA4 + GTM. Lifecycle stages, dedup, source tracking, deal trigger workflows.
- UTM spec + closed-loop attribution: Ad click to SQL pipeline. Cross-validated lead routing into Salesforce campaign attribution.
- Multi-channel paid: Google + Meta + LinkedIn + Adobe programmatic. A/B tested keywords, audiences, creative. -25% CPA, +20% conversion.
- 3 industry conferences + 6 webinars: speaker submissions, booth strategy, on-site lead capture into Salesforce, follow-up sequences.
- SEO + AEO/GEO: So the brand surfaced in ChatGPT and Claude buyer queries.

"The Soraban accounting firm buyer is the Plug Power engineering buyer in different clothing. Same skepticism, same measurement bar, same conversion logic."

How I would ramp at Soraban

- Week 1-2: Audit current channel mix + funnel. Map ICPs by firm size + workflow pain point. Sit with 3 customers + Sales.
- Week 3-4: Stand up paid pilot on LinkedIn + Google for "tax automation" and "accounting AI" intent. Document attribution stack.
- Month 2: Standing webinar rhythm with accounting community. Launch 2 case studies anchored to single hero metrics (hours saved per return, error rate cut). Begin AEO program.
- Month 3: Own a measurable inbound pipeline number. Hand off playbooks. Coordinate first major industry conference presence.
