Hiring Team, Weave,

Weave is selling to engineering leaders who think the current measurement model is broken. That audience is deeply technical, suspicious of dashboards built by non-engineers, and only converts on substance. I have spent the last 18 months building marketing for an analogous buyer at Sensata, and the last year shipping my own AI product on Python + OpenAI + React.

Why I am a fit for "founding marketer to developer-facing AI":

- Built an AI product solo: SwipeHire on Python + OpenAI API + React (app.swipehire.io). 50+ users, +25% activation, zero paid budget. I read your stack and your tech blog the way your buyers will.
- Sensata translate-tech-to-VP: 30+ customer interviews with OEMs and distributors. Sales enablement library used by 50+ reps lifted win rates 30%. $2M+ first-year revenue on new product lines via positioning and launch content.
- Plug Power MarTech and SEO/AEO: -25% CPA across Google + Meta + LinkedIn + programmatic. Shipped SEO + AEO/GEO programs so the brand surfaced in ChatGPT/Claude queries. 3 industry conferences + 6 webinars coordinated.
- Pixis AI-platform CSM: Deployed an AI engine to 8 enterprise clients ($15K-$90K monthly each). I have done the "convince a skeptical buyer the AI is real" work.

Boston-based, ready to relocate to SF.

Looking forward to talking.
