

Adhithya Rokhith Bhaskar

San Francisco Bay Area, CA | arokhith@gmail.com | +1-929-563-9974

October 6, 2026

Hiring Team, ClickHouse

You are hiring your first Senior Lifecycle Marketing Manager to turn signups and trial users into pipeline and self-serve MRR. I have built that exact engine before: at Plug Power I automated the Pardot nurture and lead-routing flow end to end and cut cost per lead 50%, then fed that flow with 15+ A/B tests across subject lines, cadence and creative tied directly to MQL quality and stage-one opportunities.

The onboarding piece you describe, email touchpoints that align to the in-product experience so activation moves, is close to what I ran at SwipeHire. I owned the GTM and analytics stack end to end, from GA4 event tracking to funnel dashboards, ran 8+ A/B tests and 12+ user interviews, and lifted activation 25% for users who had just signed up.

The always-on, sales-led side of the brief, segmented streams by persona and funnel stage that warm prospects and move open opportunities, is the same motion I ran at Sensata: email and paid launch campaigns that drove +35% qualified leads, and KPI frameworks in SQL and GA4 across 50,000+ connected devices that isolated the cohorts worth chasing instead of guessing at them.

Retention is where I have spent the most time inside a number, not a report: I cut client churn 50% across an 8-client portfolio at Pixis by rebuilding account strategy and channel mix, the same funnel-stage diagnosis your PLG and sales-led lifecycle reporting needs. I automate the repetitive side of that analysis with Claude AI agents today as Strategic Marketing III at Applied Materials, so the time goes to the next test instead of the report. Proof trail at adhi-growth-ai.vercel.app/ref/clickhouse.

Adhithya Rokhith Bhaskar