PITCH DECK | HINGE HEALTH ASSOCIATE GROWTH MARKETING MANAGER, PAID SEARCH

Owning a paid search channel end to end is not new work for me. I ran it across four platforms at once and cut CPA 25% doing it.

The same keyword, bid and testing discipline, aimed at your largest paid digital channel for enrollments.

- -25% CPA owning Paid Search and Paid Social across Google Ads, Microsoft Ads, Meta and LinkedIn
- 15+ A/B tests on messaging, formats and bidding, tied to real customer-research hypotheses
- +35% organic search from closing keyword-strategy gaps and building SEO partnerships
- 3x ROAS in one month through full-funnel restructuring at Pixis
- AI agents built on Claude already automating my own recurring reporting

WHY THIS DECK EXISTS

The job is not "run some search ads." It is owning the channel's strategy, testing roadmap and automation, start to finish.

What that actually requires

Hands-on Google Ads and Microsoft Advertising management, not oversight: branded, non-branded, bid strategy and keyword strategy built by the same person who ships it.

A testing roadmap on messaging, ad formats and settings that runs continuously, not a quarterly review deck.

Playbooks, reporting and automation, including AI-assisted workflows, that scale the channel without scaling headcount.

What I have already run

At Plug Power, I owned Paid Search and Paid Social across Google Ads, Microsoft Ads, Meta and LinkedIn myself, pairing bid optimization with ongoing testing for -25% CPA.

I directed keyword research and bid strategy for every launch, cutting wasted spend 15%, and ran 15+ A/B tests on messaging and format tied to customer-research hypotheses.

I automate recurring analysis and reporting with AI agents built on Claude at Applied Materials today, the habit this role is building into its playbooks.

> The through-line: every channel I have owned, I ran myself, end to end, with the efficiency number to show for it.

THE MANDATE, MAPPED

What the posting asks for, and where the proof already sits.

What the role covers

> "Build, launch and manage campaigns on Google Ads and Microsoft Advertising, including branded, non-branded search and Performance Max."

> "Set channel strategy and an experimentation roadmap, including keyword strategy for new product launches."

> "Build playbooks, reporting and automation, including AI-assisted workflows."

My proof

Channel ownership, Plug Power: ran Paid Search and Paid Social across Google Ads, Microsoft Ads, Meta and LinkedIn for -25% CPA.

Keyword and testing roadmap, Plug Power: directed keyword research and bid strategy for every launch, cutting wasted spend 15%, and ran 15+ A/B tests tied to customer-research hypotheses.

Budget against acquisition goals, Plug Power and Pixis: owned $100K/month across business units, then managed per-client budgets of $15K-$90K/month across an 8-client portfolio.

AI-assisted workflows, Applied Materials: automates recurring analysis and reporting with AI agents built on Claude today.

THE PROOF, IN DEPTH

Keyword strategy, testing and reporting, run as one continuous loop, not three separate jobs.

The same loop at Pixis and Plug Power: fix the underlying signal, test against a real hypothesis, then automate the reporting that proves it worked.

3x ROAS

Full-Funnel Restructuring, Pixis

One month: shopping feed cleanup, smart bidding, creative refresh and lookalike expansion for a fashion brand client.

+40% ROAS

Amplitude/Tableau Reporting, Pixis

User-behavior reporting across 30+ campaigns, the same reporting-and-automation discipline this role's playbooks call for.

+35% Organic

Keyword and SEO Partnerships, Plug Power

Closed keyword-strategy gaps and built SEO partnerships, tying organic lift back to paid campaign quality.

None of these were a one-time fix. Each became a repeatable playbook, which is the actual job behind "own the channel end to end."

FIRST 30 DAYS

What the first month owning Hinge Health's paid search channel looks like.

WEEK 1

Audit the account and the testing backlog

Pull current Google Ads and Microsoft Advertising structure, keyword coverage and live tests, the same account-level pass that found the 15% wasted-spend gap at Plug Power.

Why first: you cannot set a testing roadmap on an account you have not actually audited.

WEEK 2-3

Ship the first keyword and bid-strategy changes

Launch the first round of branded and non-branded search and bid changes tied to real hypotheses, the same discipline behind 15+ A/B tests and -25% CPA at Plug Power.

Why now: enrollments do not wait for a quarter-long ramp-up.

WEEK 4

Stand up the reporting and automation playbook

Build the recurring reporting and AI-assisted automation this role's playbooks need, the same habit already running on Claude agents at Applied Materials.

Why this fast: Data Science and the Growth team need a clean, repeatable read from week one.

CLOSE

You are hiring someone to own paid search end to end. I have already run that exact job, with the CPA number attached.

The channel half: -25% CPA owning Paid Search and Paid Social across Google Ads, Microsoft Ads, Meta and LinkedIn, and 15% less wasted spend from keyword and bid-strategy ownership.

The testing and reporting half: 15+ A/B tests tied to customer-research hypotheses, and the AI-assisted reporting habit this role's playbooks are asking for, already running today.
