Hiring Team, Reducto

At Plug Power I ran Paid Search and Paid Social across Google Ads, Microsoft Ads, Meta and LinkedIn, landing -25% CPA through bid optimization and 15+ A/B tests, then automated the WordPress and Pardot lead flow to cut cost per lead 50%. That is the same channel-plus-lifecycle pairing your posting asks for: own paid acquisition, then own the nurture and re-engagement work once a lead is in the funnel.

On the ABM side, I built a B2B lead-generation playbook combining LinkedIn Ads and Paid Search: audience layers by job title, seniority and industry, keyword and competitor-conquest targeting, and a CRM lead-scoring handoff that converts ads into sales-qualified leads. That is the audience design and sales coordination an account-based program needs before a single ad runs.

At Pixis I carried per-client paid budgets of $15K to $90K a month across an 8-client portfolio, including a full-funnel restructure (shopping feed, bidding, creative, lookalikes) that delivered 3x ROAS in one month, and used Amplitude and Tableau across 30+ campaigns to decide what to scale. I also automate my own reporting with Claude agents at Applied Materials, so the analysis that tells you what to stop funding gets built once and runs itself.

Reducto's growth since the Series B, and the document-intelligence problem itself, is the kind of acquisition and ABM build I want to run point on next. Proof trail at adhi-growth-ai.vercel.app/ref/reducto.
