Hiring Team, Writer

Your posting asks for someone who can own positioning, launch strategy and competitive differentiation for a fast-moving Core app, and also get those translations into sales-ready narratives the field will actually use. That is the job I already had at Sensata. I owned end-to-end GTM for a new line of sensing products (positioning, pricing, channel, launch) and drove $2M+ in first-year revenue, and the positioning and messaging work that turned technical platform capabilities into buyer value lifted conversion 15% on our priority launches.

The sales enablement side of your role is not new to me either. I built the decks, case studies and objection-handling material that 50+ reps used in the field, and win rates rose 30% on the accounts they touched. Later, as Pricing Lead, I sat with senior executives shaping multimillion-dollar customer quotes and AP26 revenue models, which is exactly the kind of work that turns a product investment into a narrative an enterprise buyer will sign off on. I also ran 30+ customer interviews with OEMs and distributors and tracked competitive intelligence across EMEA and the US, so the market research half of this role is a habit, not a new skill.

The part of your listing that made me want to write instead of just clicking apply is the AI native mindset requirement. At Applied Materials I already run AI agents built on Claude to automate the market-sizing and forecasting analysis that used to eat a week of every planning cycle, so the GTM view stays current instead of stale. Writer is the company that made that kind of agentic workflow a product category, and I would rather bring that habit to a team building the thing than keep practicing it on the side.

I would like to put this GTM, enablement and competitive-intelligence work behind WRITER Agent and the rest of the Core app. Proof trail at adhi-product-ai.vercel.app/ref/writer.
