Adithya Rokhith Bhaskar

San Francisco Bay Area, CA | arokhith@gmail.com | +1-929-563-9974

October 25, 2026

Hiring Team, HouseEazy

Your posting asks for someone who can turn business-vertical data into a plan leadership can act on, then keep it moving through SOPs, dashboards and follow-up. That is the job I already do. At Sensata I built the FY2026 Bleeders and Leakers Power BI dashboard from scratch, structuring 1,200 pricing opportunities against a $627M target across 3 regions, 4 product families and 20 product lines into one scorecard, then used it to recover $700K+ in margin in two quarters by negotiating on the margin exposure and willingness-to-pay data it surfaced.

The operations and reporting side of this role, SOP documentation, tracking document versions and approvals, compiling data for internal presentations, is the same muscle I use building PriceKeel, the B2B SaaS deal pricing company I founded and run. I wrote its own SOPs for deal approvals, discount governance and the CRM/CPQ workflow from zero, and I draft the investor updates, agreements and correspondence our first funding round depends on, the exact kind of first-draft-for-review work a Founder's Office needs on priority items.

Market research is not new territory either. At Simon Vision Consulting I led a 5-consultant team that sized a market from 170 facilities down to a SAM of 28 across 4 verticals, built the competitor analysis, and presented the market-entry recommendation directly to Safran's leadership. Resale real estate is a different vertical, but the discipline, structured primary research, a competitor and market database, a recommendation that survives a leadership review, is the same one.

I would want fifteen minutes to walk through how I would spend my first month inside HouseEazy's Founder's Office, starting with one vertical's planning gap and one SOP that needs tightening. Proof trail at adhithyabhaskar.vercel.app/ref/houseeazy.

Adithya Rokhith Bhaskar