SUMMARY

Technical product marketer who runs agentic AI workflows today, not tomorrow: Claude AI agents automate Applied Materials' pricing and forecasting analysis. At Sensata, built the SQL and GA4 KPI frameworks behind customer segmentation across 50,000+ connected industrial devices, then owned the GTM that turned those device-level signals into a product launch, positioning that drove $2M+ first-year revenue. Builds forecasting and value-based pricing models with Sales and Engineering input, and runs the executive-level leadership decks and OKRs that keep both teams pointed at the same roadmap. MS in Marketing Analytics from Simon Business School.
