Hiring Team, Ethos

Your posting says you want retention and LTV owned as a number you move, not a metric you report. I have done exactly that: at Pixis I cut client churn 50% across an 8-client portfolio by rebuilding account strategy, diversifying channels and building vertical playbooks, then carried the P&L and revenue targets that came with owning it end to end.

The three-journey structure you describe, prospect conversion, cross-sell and upsell, and scaling a newly launched product line, maps closely to work I already run. At Sensata I turned technical features into value propositions a self-serve funnel could act on, lifting conversion 15% on priority launches, and built the KPI frameworks in SQL and GA4 that isolated the high-intent cohorts and drop-off signals behind that number.

You are explicit about wanting someone who is the expert on cohorts and funnel curves and runs experiments through to statistical significance. That is how I operate: 15+ A/B tests and 50+ campaign analyses at Plug Power tied directly to MQL quality and CPA, and Amplitude and Tableau work at Pixis that lifted ROAS 40% by finding the real behavioral signal before rolling a winner out wide.

I run CRM and lifecycle programs in HubSpot, Pardot and Salesforce today, and I automate the repetitive side of that analysis with Claude AI agents as Strategic Marketing III at Applied Materials, so the time goes to the next experiment instead of the report.
