Hiring Team, AI-Native Mobile App Testing Platform (via Michael Page)

Your posting asks for someone who can partner directly with the founder and turn sales, marketing, partnerships and operations into one owned GTM number, with the dashboards and operating cadence to back it up. I run PriceKeel myself, end to end: I own the CRM and CPQ, I sit in the forecast and pipeline reviews, I sign off on deal approvals, and I am the one raising the first round. There is no staff to hand a problem to, so every GTM decision runs through me, which is the exact scope a founder's first Chief of Staff hire is being asked to carry.

Before PriceKeel, I built the Bleeders and Leakers dashboard at Sensata: a Power BI system ranking 1,200 pricing opportunities against a $627M target across 3 regions, 4 product families and 20 product lines, which surfaced $433M in margin gaps and, once I ran the negotiations it pointed to, closed $700K+ of that in 2 quarters. That is the special-project pattern your posting describes: take ambiguous metrics, build the dashboard, run the operating cadence around it, and carry the outcome through to a number, not just a recommendation.

At Applied Materials now, I partner across Sales, Engineering and Accounts to turn scattered field input into one market view, carrying P&L and revenue targets while I do it, and I automate the repetitive half of that work with AI agents built on Claude. The pattern an AI-native company needs from a founder-facing Chief of Staff is domain-agnostic: coordinate functions that do not report to you, build the dashboard before you build the opinion, and run the cadence that keeps a founder's priorities visible week over week. SwipeHire, an AI job-matching platform I shipped zero-to-one on the OpenAI API, is the same build-it-yourself habit applied to my own product instead of someone else's business.

I would like to bring that habit to a founder who needs a second brain on GTM execution rather than another layer of process: someone who shows up with the dashboard already built and the recommendation already attached. Proof trail at adhithyabhaskar.vercel.app/ref/michael-page.
